FOR PRESIDENT IN 1888,
JAMES G. BLAINE,
OF MAINE.

Subject to the decision of the Republican National Convention.

"We always have the American flag above us and not below us."—James G. Blaine.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The Executive Committee of the National Teachers' Association has decided to hold their next annual meeting at San Francisco.

Secretary Lamar has notified the President that he would either be compelled to resign, or that a new Commissioner of the General Land Office must be found to take the place of W. A. J. Sparks.

COLD COMFORT.

As is usually the case the Democracy finds great consolation in a predetermined victory. They have carried New York State by a slender majority after a desperate struggle, and the rooster crows loud. They regard it as a precursor of years of victory and a continuation of Democratic rule. The present Administration has been indorsed and Cleveland, according to political sharps, will be the successful standard bearer in '88. Experience has taught Republican leaders that no great importance is to be attached to an election on an off year, and particularly in New York. The history of the last twenty-five years is a safe criterion to go by, and has demonstrated that local issues in that State work results directly contrary to those of a national significance. It was a natural consequence that in an off year the Prohibition vote in New York would be much heavier than during a Presidential election, and no fair-minded man will deny this assertion, that the Prohibition ticket invariably receives the weight of its support from the Republican ranks. The Democratic party in the Empire State made no actual gain last Tuesday, but the secret of their success lay in the fact that thousands of Republican voters cast their ballots for Prohibition. Again, the Republicans hoped to secure a victory by the influence of a great man's name. It is high time that our political leaders should ignore this idiotic practice, and place candidates in the field who are recognized as men of individual worth and ability, and not those whose only recommendation is the bright luster that surrounds the history of some ancestor. The greatness of the father is seldom visited on the son. This is not only true in America but is universal throughout the world. However bright Fred Grant may be, he does not, and perhaps never will enjoy the prestige that belonged to his illustrious father. Names do not poll strength in this land, and it is political suicide to experiment in this manner longer. It is an impossibility to bridge political differences in our country by the simple use of an illustrious name. We do not maintain that young Grant was a dead weight to his ticket, or that his name brought defeat. Any candidate that could have been put forward might have met with the same defeat last Tuesday. We only deplore the use of names instead of tried and sterling worth where great results are to be accomplished. The result in New York is not to be regarded as an indorsement of Cleveland's administration, but if the Democrats persist in so regarding it, what inference is to be gleaned from the large Republican gains that have followed in other States? Are they to be accepted as endorsements of the Memorial Day fishermen? We rather think not. The result in New York has no bearing whatever on the election that takes place next Fall. Cleveland was not on trial last Tuesday. If the Democratic party can gather crumbs of comfort from the result in the Empire State, the Republicans can harvest loaves from the encouraging returns from Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and other Northern States. There is a name more dreaded by the Democracy in America than was that of Napoleon by the potentates of Europe during his reign. A name that has a man behind it that has been tried and never found wanting. A name that will act on the people like a magician's wand. Arrayed against that man will Grover Cleveland be tried and either receive an endorsement or a Waterloo defeat. That man is James G. Blaine.

It has been decided to merge the South Pacific Coast Railway, which has heretofore conducted its business as a separate corporation, with the Southern Pacific Company. L. Fillmore will be appointed Assistant General Superintendent of the Southern Pacific, with jurisdiction over the Southern Pacific Coast system. It is probable that J. C. Stubbs and T. H. Goodman will have charge of the traffic departments.

Lake Tahoe, without any apparent cause, raised four inches last Wednesday but immediately subsided. This phenomenon was due to some internal disturbance, and tends to corroborate the theory that the mountain lakes were at one time volcanic orators.

It is said that the first campaign badge for 1888 is out in Maine. It is a paste-board card bearing in big letters the words "Blaine, 1888." Mr. Blaine's friends wear them inside their hats. The Journal has been wearing one for a long time past.

The Empress of Germany is reported seriously ill. The old man may die at any moment. The Crown Prince has a canker, and take it altogether the imperial family of Germany is in a bad fix generally.

Spies, the hanged Anarchist, stated that "our silence will become more powerful than our voices." That seems to be the general impression of those who believe in law, order and good Government.

Several young bloods have been inquiring the price of seal skin cloaks lately. This would imply that some of the Reno fair sex are to be recipients of some such luxury.

The idea that Dimmig knows exactly how Benhayon came to his death, is rapidly gaining ground in San Francisco. The coils are tightening around him all the time.

Dimmig has been charged by Captain Lees with the murder of Henry Benhayon. His arraignment will in all probability lead to interesting developments.

Senator Stewart deserves credit, and shall receive it from the JOURNAL, for being at his post when Congress assembled on the first Monday in December.

Reno boys go to California for wives and the girls follow suit for husbands. Patronize home industry and it will turn out better in the long run.

Eastern people are burning their bridges behind them and swarming to the Pacific Coast to grow up with such a lovely country.

A San Francisco Anarchist defied the police and threatened blood and carnage. He was finally squelched by the blue-coats.

Who and where is the next Anarchist desirous of swinging from the gallows? DOUBLE PENSIONS.

Sheridan's suggestions Regarding Soldiers' Home inmates.

WASHINGTON, November 10th.—General Sheridan, as President of the Board of Commissioner of Soldiers' Homes, in his report sets forth the evil which gives an inmate his pension while the Home supplies all his wants. It is recommended that inmates who had less than ten years' army service be required to surrender their pensions to the Home while they remain in it; those having from ten to fifteen years' service to give two-thirds, and from fifteen to twenty years' service be permitted to retain their pensions.

THE COMPANIES WIN.

The Foreign Insurance Company Act Declared Unconstitutional.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 10.—The Supreme Court decided this afternoon, in the case of the City vs. The London and Globe Insurance Company, that the Act requiring foreign insurance companies doing business in California to pay one per cent. of their gross earnings into the Treasury of the counties maintaining paid fire departments, for the benefit of disabled firemen, is unconstitutional.

The annual report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is published. The aggregate collections of internal revenue during the year in California were as follows: First district, $1,790,036 94; second district, $200,584 63. Total for the State, $2,081,221 57. Collection for Nevada (including Utah), $70,419 50. For Oregon, $152,818 12. In California, during the past fiscal year, there were 127,402,392 cigars and 4,067,200 cigarettes manufactured. There are in the State 106 rectifiers, 11,023 retail liquor dealers, 368 wholesale dealers, 423 manufacturers of cigars, 14,733 dealers in manufactured tobacco, 191 brewers, 257 retail dealers in malt liquors and 139 wholesale dealers in malt liquors. On October 1st last there was 26,822 gallons of spirits in California distillery warehouses.

PLANETS FOR NOVEMBER.

Saturn is the morning star, and though far inferior to Venus in brilliancy, wins the first place on the planetary annals of the month for the special interest attached to his movements among the stars. During the month he will approach the cluster of stars known as Praesepe, but instead of passing it will retrograde and hover near it until well into December.

Venus is morning star. She has passed her period of greatest brilliancy, is increasing her distance from the earth and diminishing in size.

Mars is morning star, and is now beginning to be of some importance on the records. He may be recognized south-east of Regulus as a small ruddy star.

Uranus is morning star, but too far from us to be of much account at present, as he passes from conjunction to quadrature.

Jupiter is evening star until the 8th and then morning star. On the 8th, at 9 o'clock in the evening, he is in conjunction with the sun and, passing from his eastern to his western side, commences his course as morning star.

Mercury is evening star until the 17th and then morning star. On the 17th Mercury reaches inferior conjunction, passing between the earth and the sun, and being at his nearest point to the earth.

Neptune is morning star until the 21st and then evening star. He is in opposition with the sun on the 21st, when he is at his minimum distance from the earth, and under the best conditions for telescopic observation.

THE VIRGINIA SENATORSHIP.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—There are certain Virginia Democrats who do not expect ex-Congressman J. S. Barbour to have a walk-over for the Senatorship to succeed Riddleberger, in spite of the assurances which Barbour is said to have received from party leaders that he should be elevated to the Senate in the event of Mahone's overthrow on Tuesday. It is said that several other well-known Virginians have Senatorial aspirations in addition to several active supporters in the Virginia Legislature. A well-informed Virginian remarked today that Governor Fitzhugh Lee, J. Randolph Tucker and John Goode are ambitious to be elected to the Senate, notwithstanding the claims of Mr. Barbour and the result may be a spirited contest between the gentleman named for Senatorial honors.

Mars is morning star, and is now beginning to be of some importance on the records. He may be recognized south-east of Regulus as a small ruddy star.

Uranus is morning star, but too far from us to be of much account at present, as he passes from conjunction to quadrature.

Jupiter is evening star until the 8th and then morning star. On the 8th, at 9 o'clock in the evening, he is in conjunction with the sun and, passing from his eastern to his western side, commences his course as morning star.

Mercury is evening star until the 17th and then morning star. On the 17th Mercury reaches inferior conjunction, passing between the earth and the sun, and being at his nearest point to the earth.

Neptune is morning star until the 21st and then evening star. He is in opposition with the sun on the 21st, when he is at his minimum distance from the earth, and under the best conditions for telescopic observation.

THE VIRGINIA SENATORSHIP.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—There are certain Virginia Democrats who do not expect ex-Congressman J. S. Barbour to have a walk-over for the Senatorship to succeed Riddleberger, in spite of the assurances which Barbour is said to have received from party leaders that he should be elevated to the Senate in the event of Mahone's overthrow on Tuesday. It is said that several other well-known Virginians have Senatorial aspirations in addition to several active supporters in the Virginia Legislature. A well-informed Virginian remarked today that Governor Fitzhugh Lee, J. Randolph Tucker and John Goode are ambitious to be elected to the Senate, notwithstanding the claims of Mr. Barbour and the result may be a spirited contest between the gentleman named for Senatorial honors.

PLANETS FOR NOVEMBER.

Saturn is the morning star, and though far inferior to Venus in brilliancy, wins the first place on the planetary annals of the month for the special interest attached to his movements among the stars. During the month he will approach the cluster of stars known as Praesepe, but instead of passing it will retrograde and hover near it until well into December.

Venus is morning star. She has passed her period of greatest brilliancy, is increasing her distance from the earth and diminishing in size.

A POKER SHARP.—On Friday a roughly dressed, verdant looking individual, hailing from Battle Mountain, landed in Reno, and soon displayed an inclination to indulge in a game of draw poker. He was soon accommodated and local sports undertook to lead the unsuspecting lamb to the slaughter. As the game progressed it became evident to the other players that the verdant appearing individual was holding remarkable luck, and when the game broke up Saturday morning he had enriched himself to the tune of several hundred dollars. After a short season of rest he was again importuned to anchor himself and resume the game. He quickly acquiesced and the play was resumed. As had been the case during the night fortune followed him until suspicion was aroused, and it was surmised that he was getting the better of his fellow players by some game best known to himself. In order to satisfy themselves on this point, a hand was run up for him consisting of three queens with a top hand in the possession of one of the other players. Betting became lively, and when the Battle Mountain chap, who gave his name as Collins, was called down, he displayed an ace full instead of the three queens given to him. A scene followed, pistols were drawn, and he was compelled to disgorge $110 of the money won on the hand. He was arrested for robbery, but after mature deliberation the charge against him was withdrawn and he was allowed to depart. Subsequent inquiry elicited the fact that Collins is an expert at cards, having done up Austin, Battle Mountain and other points in the eastern part of the State. He is a little too smooth for the average run of sports, as his play yesterday clearly indicates. He will leave Reno six hundred dollars richer than when he landed here.

RAILROAD TIES.—The durability of railroad ties depends very much on the kind of timber from which they are made, and not altogether on the character of the soil in which they are laid. In this State experience has demonstrated that pine is the most durable timber for that purpose; but notwithstanding this fact it is not universally in use. Redwood is used extensively, but is altogether too soft to stand long under the heavy weight to which it is subjected. When redwood ties are laid alternately with those made from pine, the difference between them is readily seen. The redwood being much softer than the pine, soon cuts through and the rail having no bearing, only on the more solid ties, is apt to break and the road necessarily requires more attention in the shape of repairs. Old railroad builders take the stand that to have a good, smooth and safe road, the timber under the rails should all be of the same kind and not of a mixed nature. The reasons they advance are indisputable.

YOUNG RAILROADERS.—Quite a number of Reno boys have recently accepted positions on the C. P. R. R., and others are endeavoring to procure employment on the same road. Railroading, though attended by more or less danger, is an agreeable and well-paid vocation, and many of our most prosperous men on this coast have "twisted snakes" and "punched tickets." If nothing better presents itself, boys, follow the rail until finer opportunities cross your pathway. If you never become famous you will at least have the satisfaction of knowing that you can earn an honest living.

ITS WAY.—A few days ago one of the teachers at the University called the attention of a class of young men to the numerous terms used to attract attention, and in order to illustrate the fact asked several of them in what manner they would hail a friend on the street. One answered that he would say "hello," another that he would yell out "say," another that he would whistle, but a progressive youth, who never fails to fasten on a new expression, paralyzed the inquisitive teacher by saying that he generally vociferated "ah there!"

MORE ALFALFA.—The growing demand for alfalfa hay in this section renders it imperative that the acreage should be greatly increased. Farmers are not slow to take advantage of a good market and next season the crop of this nutritious article will be greater than ever before, at least so far as acreage is concerned. Already the work of clearing has commenced, and rocky sagebrush lands of to-day will be waving with alfalfa next Summer.

PEAVINE.—Work in Peavine district is progressing favorably and under the most encouraging circumstances. It may seem like a wild assertion, but the day will come when this struggling mining district will play an important part in the billion output of this State. Confidence and energy is the secret of successful quartz mining, and Peavine is favored with both and good ore to encourage them.

Dan Sohl will not deliver around town any longer, but will have a little office in Nicholson's store, where his customers can be supplied with his sausages, dried beef, bacon and lard. The office will be in charge of Mr. Stoddard.

GRAPE CULTURE.—This subject has been generally discussed by the press of Western Nevada, and the verdict is that vines of a hardy variety would thrive and be a source of great profit in this portion of Nevada. It has been demonstrated on a small scale, to be sure, that a large amount of the hill land is admirably adapted to vine culture and it only remains to be thoroughly tested on a more satisfactory basis. It naturally follows that those who are possessed of the greatest acreage of this kind of land should be the most interested and the proper parties to make the desired test. The C. P. Railroad Co. have a much deeper interest in the matter, and it would be decidedly to their benefit pecuniarily to solve this most important question. The company should try the experiment and should also explore for artesian water. If success should attend both ventures the benefits that would accrue would be almost incalculable not only to the railroad company but to the State at large.

JACK STEVENS DEAD.—On Thursday Jack Stevens an old and well known resident of Gold Hill died from a severe attack of pneumonia. The deceased was a native of Cornwall, England, and was known and appreciated as a whole-souled, generous man. When he first came to this country he followed the vocation of a miner until an accident many years ago robbed him of his right hand. Some 20 years ago he came to Gold Hill where he engaged in the saloon business, a vocation he has followed since that time. Physically he was almost a giant and one of the last men to be selected as a victim of pneumonia. Old Jack will be missed from his daily haunts and a host of warm friends will deplore his untimely death. His funeral will take place to-day under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias, of which he was a devoted member.

SHAME.—The Sierra Valley Leader remarks:

The evidence under oath in the desert land case, of this Valley, were directly the reverse, we were informed at Susanville recently, consequently one side or the other must have perjured themselves. A few prosecutions for offences of this kind would purify our Courts. There are a few cattle thieves in this Valley, if we have been correctly informed, as two different cases have been stated to us this week; if this be a fact the thieves should be dealt with as according to stock regulations, or the law, or Judge Lynch. It is high time that society was purged from both these detestable classes of citizens, viz: perjurers and thieves.

The Methodist Church on Sierra street being closed for repairs, the preaching services for to-day will be held in the Congregational Church, Sunday School in the public school building, corner of First and Sierra streets.

Services at the Baptist Church this morning at 11 A. M. Rev. C. L. Fisher, Pastor. At 7 P. M. the Sabbath School Concert and children's missionary meeting. Sabbath School at 12 P. M. An invitation to all.

Friday morning Thomas Kennedy, employed in the Best & Bolcher mine, in Virginia City, ran an iron scraper, used in cleaning out drill holes, into his thigh, inflicting a painful wound.

Billy Williams, who was injured in the Yellow Jacket mine some months ago, is reported in a dying condition in San Francisco, whither he had gone for treatment.

Work on the new opera house is being pushed vigorously and if the weather continues pleasant it will not be many weeks before it will be ready for occupancy.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-aw f-1v
